

Don't Forget the Bacon Activity Card

Dear Families - Learning to remember is an important part of childhood, and it comforts children to know that others become "mixed up", too. In this book, a child becomes confused while on a shopping trip for Mother. With your Head Start child, cut the pictures from the bottom of this page. Then, re-read the book and paste the "confused" picture in the row with the item that Mother first told the child to buy.
